Market Commentary

Global Economic Market Commentary – June 2024 (NZD)

Economic Commentary for Q2 2024: New Zealand Perspective

The second quarter of 2024 presented a mixed economic environment for New Zealand investors, marked by diverse trends across different asset classes:

Inflation and Interest Rates

The Reserve Bank of New Zealand (RBNZ) maintained its cautious stance, keeping interest rates steady at 4.5%. This decision reflected a balancing act between controlling inflation, which showed signs of moderating, and supporting economic growth, which remained tepid. The Consumer Price Index (CPI) for Q2 indicated a year-on-year inflation rate of 3.2%, down from 3.8% in Q1, suggesting that inflationary pressures were easing but still above the RBNZ's target range.

Global Growth

Globally, economic performance was uneven. The US economy continued its robust expansion with a GDP growth rate of 2.6% for the quarter, driven by resilient consumer spending and a strong labor market. The Eurozone, however, faced headwinds with a modest growth rate of 0.7%, as manufacturing activity slowed and geopolitical tensions weighed on sentiment. In Asia, China's economy grew by 4.8%, rebounding from previous quarters but facing challenges from a property market slowdown and regulatory changes.

Equity Markets

Equity markets displayed mixed results in Q2. The MSCI World ex-Australia Index (unhedged) rose by 8% in NZD terms, benefiting from strong performance in US technology stocks and positive earnings reports from major global corporations. New Zealand's NZX 50 Index, however, underperformed, posting a modest gain of 2.5%, as domestic companies faced pressures from rising costs and a cautious consumer environment.

Fixed Income

Fixed income markets saw a slight recovery, with the Bloomberg New Zealand Bond Composite Index gaining 1.2%. This reflected stabilizing yields as investors adjusted expectations for future interest rate hikes. Globally, fixed income assets provided mixed returns; US Treasuries were relatively flat, while European bonds benefited from a more dovish stance by the European Central Bank.

Commodities

Commodity prices were volatile during the quarter. Dairy prices, crucial for New Zealand's export sector, fell by 4% amid global supply chain disruptions and softer demand from China. On the other hand, oil prices increased by 6%, driven by production cuts from OPEC+ and geopolitical tensions in key producing regions.

NZ Dollar

The New Zealand dollar experienced further depreciation, declining by 3% against the US dollar and 2% against the Euro. This depreciation was influenced by the RBNZ's steady rate policy compared to more aggressive tightening by other central banks and weaker commodity prices. The softer NZD boosted returns for unhedged foreign investments but increased the cost of imports, adding to inflationary pressures.

Conclusion

Q2 2024 was a period of cautious navigation for New Zealand investors. While global growth dynamics offered some positive signals, domestic challenges persisted. The equity market delivered moderate gains, primarily supported by international exposures, while fixed income provided some stability amidst fluctuating yields. The weakening NZ dollar underscored the importance of currency diversification in investment portfolios. Looking ahead, investors will need to remain vigilant, balancing opportunities in global markets with the evolving economic landscape at home.

Fund Manager Results

Many multi sector KiwiSaver funds produced positive returns over the June quarter, and many produced negative returns with funds that contained risk assets struggling the most.. As for default funds Simplicity and Superlife made an appearance at the top of the table with the best returns of the quarter, to boost solid annual numbers. Most of the default funds punched out 10% returns for the year, with the notable exception of Fisher Funds. Quay Street continues to perform well across many time periods in the conservative and balanced categories. Milford has consistently high performance within the moderate, balanced and growth categories over the long term, albeit struggling a little recently. Generate is putting up strong numbers across many time periods.

It is most appropriate to evaluate performance of a KiwiSaver scheme by studying its long-term returns. Over 10 years, the aggressive category average has given investors an annualized return of 9.1%, followed by growth (8.2%), balanced (6.7%), moderate (4.7%), and conservative (4.3%).

Furthermore, the Global Sustainability Rating was added to the survey in 2023, displaying funds with four and five globe ratings received. The Morningstar Sustainability Rating is designed to support investors in evaluating the relative environmental, social, and governance risks within portfolios.

Market Share

KiwiSaver assets on the Morningstar database increased during the December quarter to 110.8 billion. ANZ leads the market share with more than NZD 20.7 billion. Fisher is in second position, with a market share of 15.1%. Milford is sandwiched in between ASB and AMP in 4th. The five largest KiwiSaver providers account for approximately 68% of assets in our database and generate around 69% of the fees.

About This Survey

This survey groups KiwiSaver options according to their mix of income and growth assets, or “asset allocation.” This is one of the most important decisions to make when saving for retirement. The term “income assets” refers to cash and fixed interest securities that generally produce stable and reliable returns but offer little opportunity for long-term capital growth. Returns from “growth assets” such as property and shares can be volatile—as recent market conditions have demonstrated—but over time have shown greater capacity for increasing in value. The mixture of income and growth assets is the major determinant of potential return and volatility.

Investors may notice differences between the returns published in this survey and those they see elsewhere. There are several possible reasons for this. First, the returns published here are after fees but before tax. Second, we take the associated tax credit into consideration when calculating and publishing these returns, while some fund managers base their published performance figures on month-end unit prices only. ■■■

These fees have not yet been collected

This fee number includes the fund managers own estimates for their performance fees from their Product Disclosure Statement, in which they actually earn significantly more or less depending on their result.

This size is only an estimate, and can be different because of the size of the fund fluctuating through the year, and performance fee estimates

You should not use this data to assume what a fund company has earned in fees from KiwiSaver.

End of Year Hiostorical Size Data

- This is not the historical size of the overall market
